PERSONAL.

George Parton has returned from Washington, D. C., where he spent his vacation. Mrs. G. W. Manly, of Monroe avenue, is entertaining Mrs. P. B. Whitney and son Ray and Mrs. Rogers of Thompson. The following Yale men leave today for New Haven: T. F. Archibald, A. E. Hunt, P. B. Bell, R. W. Archibald, W. Scranton. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Davis returned last evening from their wedding tour and will be "at home" at 103 1/2 West Market street after Oct. 1. Mrs. A. F. De Long and Mrs. Mary Slattery, of Binghamton, spent yesterday in the city guests of their friend, C. B. Warden, of THE TRIBUNE. Misses Fannie Brommery, May Boyce, Lillian Archer and Josephine Jackson, of Binghamton, were among those who witnessed the parade yesterday. City Solicitor J. H. Torrey received a telegram yesterday from Cazenovia, N. Y., where his parents reside, that his father, David Torrey, was on his death bed. Mr. Torrey left on the afternoon train. Andrew P. Bedford, of Scranton, the general manager of the biggest milk transportation company in the east, and one of the most popular men in northeastern Pennsylvania, was at the Grand House last night.—Philadelphia Inquirer. Professor Dan Protheroe, of Scranton, has finally decided to remove to the west and there make his future permanent home. No one has ever done so much for choral singing in Scranton as Professor Protheroe, and his departure, says the Wilkes-Barre Leader, will be a real loss to that city. The city of Milwaukee is to be congratulated upon securing such a trained leader and promising composer as Professor Protheroe. He will soon make his influence felt in the musical circles of that progressive city.

JOHN CONNOLLY BURNED.

Explosion in the Johnson Mine with Serious Results to Him. John Connolly, a resident of Danmore, was admitted to the Lackawanna hospital yesterday, suffering from the effects of burns obtained in an explosion at the Johnson mine. Connolly is in a serious condition, but upon inquiries at a late hour last evening was reported to be resting easy.

Honest Fred Long.

Fred Long, a boy residing at 1011 Kirat court, yesterday afternoon found $430 bill on Lackawanna avenue, near the scene of the recent fire, and in company with his father, Max Long, went to the city hall and delivered the note to Chief Simpson, who will return it to the owner upon his supplying a satisfactory account of the bill.

OUR FIREMEN IN LINE

They Made a Splendid Showing on Their Annual Parade.

DECORATIONS ALONG THE ROUTE

Citizens of the City Were Lavish in Their Display of Bunting and Flags. Organizations That Made Up the Parade—Those Who Occupied Carriages—Paraders Reviewed at the City Hall.

Along gaily decorated streets, marching to the inspiring music of many bands, the companies of the Scranton fire department participated yesterday in annual parade.

In the early afternoon the line of march began forming on Washington avenue, right resting on Lackawanna. At 2:30 the word of command was given, the parade moved forward along the line of march, and thousands of eyes gazed in admiring wonder at the creditable display.

Mounted Officers Burks and Roche constituted an advance escort and cleared the avenues along which the parade moved. The police patrol with a squad of officers occupied the place ahead of the platoon of police marshaled by Chief Simpson.

A line of carriages next came, occupied as follows: First—Mayor Connell, Select Council Chairman Chittenden, Common Council Chairman Neelis and Mayor Hendricks, of Carbondale.

Second—Fire commissioners James Lyon, William F. Lutz, Albert D. Faucher and Joseph Gilbert, of Binghamton.

Third—Chief C. M. Hogg, First Assistant J. R. Eldredge, Second Assistant A. H. Lyon, Treasurer A. S. Patten, of Binghamton.

Fourth—H. C. Maxwell, Edward Stanford and H. Everett, of Binghamton.

Fifth—Ex-Alderman Rowler, Councilman Clemens and Kellow.

Sixth—Thomas W. Allen, of Binghamton, Councilman Adams, Morris, Arja Williams and P. J. Hickey.

Seventh—Councilmen Manly, Sweeney, Burns and Wenzel.

Eighth—Councilmen Wagner, Schwenck, Council and Kelly.

Ninth—Councilman Darr, Clark, Noon and Naughton.

Tenth—Assessors Baszell, York, Jones, Building Inspector Nelson and D. Evans, of St. Lake City.

Eleventh—Councilmen Williams, Robinson, Finn and Howe.

Twelfth—Councilmen Schadt, Regan and Robinson.

ORDER OF THE PARADE.

After the carriages came the body of the parade in the following order: Chief H. F. Ferber and Assistants A. K. Deitweiler, Joseph Hall, George R. Sydnam, Patrick Feeney and Jacob Fries. Visiting Chiefs and Assistants. Lincoln Drum Corps, Newark, N. J. Monaghan Hose Company, No. 1, Middle-Germania Band. Crystal Hose and Steam Company, No. 4. Franklin Engine Company, No. 1. Nay Hose and Steam Company, No. 1. Liberty Hose Company, No. 2. Thirteenth Regiment Drum Corps. Neptune Engine Company, No. 2. Reibel Engine Company, No. 3. General Phinney Engine Company, No. 4. Forest Band. Eagle Engine Company, No. 5. Columbia Hose Company, No. 5. Niagara Hose Company, No. 7. Citizens' Band. Phenix Hose Company, No. 6. Excelsior Hose Company, No. 8. Old Neptune Hand Engine. Bauer's Band. Scranton Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1. William Connell Hose Company, No. 9. P. O. S. of A. Drum Corps. Century Hose Company, No. 10. Cumberland Hose Company, No. 11.

The parade marched down Lackawanna avenue and countermarched on West Lackawanna to Franklin, to Vine, to Washington. At the Municipal building Mayor, visitors and councilmen reviewed the parade.

As each company passed by a myriad of school children that had taken possession of the windows, porches and every available point of view sent up resounding cheers that must have gladdened the hearts of the firemen.

THE VISITORS' HOSE CARRIAGE.

When the Crystal Hose company passed by their engine drawn by six milkwhite steeds, splendid specimens of the equine race, and the entire company following in a line was hauling with snarl ropes the parade hose cart of their Middletown visitors, the reception was enough to strike them with self-conscious pride.

Bringing up the rear of the Monaghan Hose company was their mascot, a greyhound. The dog was attired in a flannel garment to match the uniform of the company and was led by two colored members.

It is not an easy matter to single out any particular company and give it praise for superior showing. Proportionately speaking one company was as good as another and all deserve the warmest commendation for the untiring efforts manifested in yesterday's parade.

Each company offered a salute as it passed the reviewing stand, and at the corner of Spruce and Washington disbanded.

After the last company passed by the visitors who had occupied carriages assembled in the mayor's office and were introduced to Mayor Connell and Mayor Hendricks, of Carbondale. They expressed themselves in pleasing terms of the well appointed city building, after having visited it from basement to dome.

The residents of the city were also highly praised for their patriotic spirit in decorating the houses in honor of parade day, which this year will be remembered as becoming entitled to the credit of surpassing all former occasions.

ANOTHER NEW ENTERPRISE.

Young Men Open a General Plumbing Establishment on Wyoming Avenue. A new sign made its appearance on Wyoming avenue yesterday in front of the store at No. 207, which bore the words "P. F. & M. T. Howley." It announced the inauguration of another business enterprise.

The Messrs. Howley have for several years past been associated with their brothers under the firm name of Howley Bros., and conducted a general hardware business. The co-partnership was dissolved a few weeks ago and P. F. and M. T. Howley will hereafter conduct a general plumbing and steam fitting business.

Millinery Opening.

MISS MURSCHE'S BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Pleasant Time Enjoyed by a Number of Her Friends.

Miss Tillie Mursch was tendered a birthday party last evening in honor of her eighteenth birthday. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing, and supper was served at 12 o'clock.

Among those present were Mrs. Jacob Ruppenthal, the Misses Lillie Kreilich, Mary Hartman, Lena Hartman, Lena Kellerman, Minnie Kreilich, Lottie Lengler, Kate Lewert, Lizzie Lewert, Lizzie Schick, Louise Hess, Minnie Zang, Julia Joehar, from Philadelphia, Annie Weisman, Ida Zang, Sophie Haas, Annie Klein, Bertha Kresmenauer, Katie Hildebrand, Annie Schenob, Emma Luther, Minnie Barr, and Chas. Mursch, Fred Mursch, William Schunk, Louis Hess, Fred C. Miller, Peter Kollerman, Law, Havestrob, John Brunner, William Kirst, Adolph Mursch, Jacob Schunk, Eugene Tannier, Chas. G. Lewert, Fred Herman.

VERDICT FOR FOSTER.

He Will Get His Divorce From His Wife—Progress of the Other Cases on Trial.

After court opened yesterday morning the arguments to the jury in the divorce case of Luther Foster against Nancy Oliver Foster were resumed before Judge Furst. At 10 o'clock the case was given to the jury and it was returned in half an hour with a verdict in favor of Mr. Foster. He will get his divorce.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the closing testimony in the case of Thomas Rish against the Delaware and Hudson Canal company was heard. It was decided not to argue the case to the jury until this morning.

Before Judge Edwards in No. 3 the case of Charles A. Burr, committee of Dr. A. E. Burr, was on trial all day. At 4:30 the plaintiff rested and court adjourned until this morning, when the case will be opened for the defense.

The suit of Michael Wroblewski against the St. Francis Xavier Polish Beneficial society was tried before Judge Furst in court room No. 2. In 1891 the plaintiff resided at Archbald but was a member of the defendant society which is connected with the Polish Catholic church of this city. In the summer of 1893 Wroblewski says he was taken sick and laid up for a period that entitled him to ten weeks benefits at the rate of $4 per week.

The society refused to pay and he brought suit. On the trial of the action yesterday it was maintained by the defendant that Wroblewski had only feigned sickness and that even if he was sick his conduct during his illness was in violation of the constitution and prevented him from recovering the amount of benefits claimed. The plaintiff was represented by Colonel F. J. Fitzsimmons and the defendant by Attorney T. M. McKinley. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $47, the full amount of his claim.

Before Judge Archbald and a jury of six in the grand jury room an enquiry was held as to the sanity of Benjamin S. Clark, of Boston township. The jury, which was called to a great mass of testimony, found that Mr. Clark had been a lunatic for two years past, and that he owns fifty-six acres of land in Boston township and stock and farm implements valued at $2,300.

WORK IN THE GOSPEL TENT.

The Services Conducted by Evangelist Schiverea Yesterday.

A large number attended the Bible class meeting in the Linden street gospel tent yesterday afternoon, when Evangelist Schiverea gave a practical address upon "Consecration."

In the evening Mr. Schiverea conducted a meeting on the old fashioned revivalistic lines. After the audience had sung "We Are Marching to Zion," he asked "How many of you are marching to Zion?" Several responded by giving their experiences briefly and some the evangelist took ask how long they had been Christians and upon an answer would ask "Don't you wish you had been a Christian longer?" There was a competition in the crowded tent as to who should be first to give their experience. Persons of all ages were constantly upon their feet in response to the invitation.

Rev. Charles E. Robinson, R. V. Webster H. Pearce and Frank W. Pearsall conducted the preliminary services and W. Weedon sang various solos. C. F. Whitmore is conducting the choir during the week. Mr. Schiverea preached an excellent sermon from Hebrews ii, 3.

A mass meeting of children will be held in the tent on Saturday at 3:30. Today at noon Mr. Schiverea will address a meeting in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western machine shop and on Friday at noon in the car shop.

Professor Weedon, father of W. Weedon, Mr. Schiverea's singer, arrived in the city last night on his way to New York and will assist at the meetings during the week.

W. C. T. MEETING.

Mrs. L. G. Wright Elected Delegate to State Convention.

The weekly meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance union was held at its rooms, 303 Spruce street, yesterday afternoon when reports were read upon the work of the Moscow county convention. Mrs. L. G. Wright was elected state delegate, Mrs. G. F. Field being appointed alternate.

Arrangements were also made for the attendance of a good contingent at the public meeting on Thursday night at the Green Ridge Evangelical church.

Jaycosse Wanted a Faith.

John Jaycosse, of Carbondale, who was arrested in Doneruegan alley, West Side, on Monday night, was "so dirty that the officers found it difficult to handle him." Alderman Fuller had him $3 for drunkenness. Jaycosse was in a most filthy condition and promised to return at once to the Pioneer City and bath.

At the Theaters.

Barney Ferguson produced his new play, "Dinky's Blindness," at the Academy of Music last evening. He is the same Ferguson as of old and greatly amused his audience. He has surrounded himself with a company of good specialty people, who assist him in giving an entertainment that is very satisfactory. The Stewart sisters made a decided hit last night in their specialties.

The present theatrical season has already begun with success in New York, and if present indications count for anything will bring to the surface many new and good things for the amusement loving public. Hopper and Wilson have scored hits with "Dr. Syntax" and "The Devil's Deputy," while Della Fox is striving for honors in "The Little Trooper." Next to follow will be an important effort by Pauline Hall in "Dorcas," an operatic comedy which is said to be an innovation of novelty in the operatic field. The cast includes such well known names as William Broderick, Jeanette St. Henry, Kate Davis, Charles Bradshaw and a dozen others.

Tomorrow night "The Great Brooklyn Handicap" will be given at the Academy of Music with a splendid company and artistic scenery and effects. The melodrama tells a story that is full of interest, and holds the close attention of the audience from beginning to end.

Tomorrow night at the Frothingham the London Sports Big Burlesque company will be the attraction. It contains many clever people who give a very entertaining performance.

There may be lots of girls who have lead in their heels, but that certainly cannot be said of little Maud Curtis, the dancer with "The Dazzler." She is not yet 16 years old, but her dancing comes perfectly natural. The most difficult steps proved no obstacle to her even in her young days, and now that she has got old enough to think for herself, she has invented many new ones. She is a wonder in her way. "The Dazzler" will be seen at the Academy of Music on Friday evening next.

The history of the way "The Burglar," which will be seen at the Frothingham Friday night, was written has just the slightest suggestion of romance entwined in its conception. Its author, Gus Thomas, was a member of the Motion picture club of St. Louis, and at a reception given by that organization a member asked him to write a brief sketch in which his daughter might appear. "Edith the Burglar" was the outcome. It was so well received that it was taken in hand and entirely reconstructed by Mr. Thomas, who points with pride to "The Burglar" of today as the result. It is an effective and touching play, as now produced, in which all the emotions of actual being are lightly and picturesquely blended, with just enough comedy dash throughout to give it life and snap.

"Wife for Wife," a sensational drama of life in southern climes, will be seen at the Academy of Music on Saturday evening. The following is from the Kansas City Journal: "Wife for Wife," as presented at the Grand Opera House, is destined to do a big week's business. This organization is known to the theater-goers of Kansas City as a strong one. The play is adapted to the audience, and the presentation is much better than is usually given by traveling combinations at the Grand."
